Volunteering

Without the volunteer effort of its members the Edmonton Yacht Club could not operate. It would lose its sense of community and its ability to support its unique sailing experience. As a member of the community of EYC, members are expected to contribute at least 25 hours of volunteer service per year in addition to serving one day per year as "Officer Of The Day." Typically volunteer activities include helping with docks-in, docks-out, Seba Days and other regattas, helping with races, the grounds, renovations and maintenance, organizing etc. Please help us assign you to an area that most closely matches your own interests by choosing one or more of the following:

- Working at various events, social activities _____
- Racing, race organizing, sailing school, youth sailing _____
- Construction and maintenance work _____
- Docks and dock maintenance _____
- Volunteer coordination, event staging _____
- Working on a Committee _____
- Grounds keeping, beautification _____
- Other, please state your interest _____

DutyMan

DutyMan, the tool used by the EYC to schedule volunteer assignments, works on a first-come, first-serve basis. Members are urged to select their preferred dates for Officer of the Day, Bar Night and any other volunteer event as early as possible in the season.

To access DutyMan, direct your browser to <http://bit.ly/eycdm>. In the case of new members, a DutyMan account will be created and emailed to you.

Officer of the Day

An Officer of the Day is required on all weekends. Every member is required to serve one day each year as Officer Of The Day on a normal weekend or long weekend day.

Bar Nights

There is no better way to get to know EYC members than by volunteering to tend the bar on Saturday nights! This is a shared responsibility among the membership and adds a great deal to the club camaraderie. On long weekends, there are 2 bar nights.

Work Teams

Teams of people are assembled to organize and manage different aspects of club activities. Such as, organizing a social calendar of events, managing club membership data and application processes, organizing annual gardening and dock installation, maintenance and removal.
